Corner Plantings

Want to add some brilliant colors to an intersection in our neighborhood? It's time to sign up to receive free annual blooms to plant at the corners of intersections in the North of Grand Neighborhood.

The city will provide the flowers. We ask you to be responsible for planting, weeding and watering throughout the summer months. Why not ask a neighbor or two to share some of the tasks at an intersection near you? We have a Roto-tiller to help dig up the earth prior to planting.

Please contact Mark Siegfried at 255-7667 or Ben Molloy at 277-4387 if you're interested in planting and tending a corner plot near you. Plants may be picked up in at Mark's backyard, located at 4105 Woodland Avenue after May 10th.

ST. AUGUSTIN'S: A BRIEF HISTORY

By Dane Shelton

On the afternoon of July 4, 1920 a group of twelve men met in Greenwood Park with Bishop Thomas Drumm to discuss the establishment of a new Catholic parish on the west side of Des Moines. Woodrow Wilson was the president of the United States, the Panama Canal was set to open in eight days, and Joan of Arc had just been canonized a saint in May.

In 1920, the City of Des Moines was a growing city with a population of 197,000, having grown by more than 44,000 since the establishment of the Diocese of Des Moines (Southwest Iowa) in 1911. In the park that afternoon, Bishop Drumm appointed Father John Noonan pastor of the new parish, which was to be named for St. Augustin, Bishop of Hippo, the fourth century doctor of the church. With the cathedral of the diocese having been named for St. Ambrose, Bishop of Milan, it seemed fitting to honor Augustin (often spelled Augustine) who had been converted to Christianity and baptized by Ambrose in 387 AD.

For the first four years mass was celebrated in the Greenwood Ballroom above the Curtiss Pharmacy and the Greenwood Grocery at 4717 Grand Avenue, a building that still stands on the north side of Grand across from the Des Moines Art Center. In May 1922, land was purchased for the construction of a church at the corner of 42nd Street and Grand Avenue, part of the 60-acre tract that had been the Iowa State Fair from 1879 until 1885. Father Noonan hired the Boston firm of Maginnis and Walsh, recognized as one of the leading church architects in America at the time, who designed the building in the English Gothic Style, using brick and Bedford stone, with a red, flat-tile roof. The building was completed in late 1923 and dedicated on February 3, 1924.

The first of the stained glass windows designed by Charles J. Connick, also of Boston, the 16-medallion window above the altar, was installed in December, 1923. The window between the sanctuary and the chapel was installed later in 1924, the south balcony window (donated by Carl Weeks of Salisbury House) in September 1930, the 18 nave windows in the fall of 1935, and finally the chapel windows in 1941. Windows created at the Connick Studio can be found in over 5,000 buildings around the world.

On May 9th, you will all have a chance to see this beautiful church. I have many other interesting facts about St. Augustin Church to share with those interested. We also plan to have Win Douglass, a longtime St. Augustin parishioner, who has developed a script explaining the Biblical stories told in the stained glass windows.

In 2000, the 37-acre Middlesex Plat Historic District earned listing on the National Register of Historic Places. This designation honors this area's contributions to Des Moines's history and opens the door for those residents to apply for state historic tax credits when rehabilitating their homes. These financial incentives do not restrict the rights of property owners in the use, development, or sale of private historic property.

In April 2011, NOG was awarded a $3,500 Polk County Community Betterment grant to conduct a historic survey on the western boundary of the neighborhood, a key step towards gaining eligibility for the National Register of Historic Places. NOG and the City of Des Moines are in the process of applying for State Historical Society of Iowa's Resource Enhancement and Protection Act/ Historical Resource Development Program funds. If you are interested in volunteering, please contact Colleen Kinney at 664-9183 or mcfet6@mchsi.com.

NOG's own Colleen Kinney has been busy planning the unique opportunity to showcase everything Des Moines' West Side has to offer to a national audience of city leaders and planners. The attendees will travel a seven-mile loop along updated Ingersoll Avenue on "Des Moines B-cycle" bike-sharing two-wheelers. Tour guides will ride along to explain the challenges and successes of revitalizing the mixed-use Ingersoll Avenue corridor and outline strategies for developing a vibrant pedestrian and bike-friendly retail area adjacent to historic neighborhoods. This tour will involve two hours of riding, with a break for lunch at Palmers Deli that will include presentations by local leaders.

A second ride is being planned for the general public as part of the Ingersoll Live festivities. More information to follow.

PLYMOUTH PLACE

Plymouth Place was built forty two years ago, after a study conducted by Plymouth UCC found that housing was needed for independent seniors. At that time the Plymouth Board obtained their mortgage through HUD, to build the existing facility. It is located at the corner of Ingersoll and 42nd Street. Most of the original trees that were planted by the prior owner remain on the property.

Plymouth Place is for seniors 62 and above with low or moderate income. There are approximately 150 seniors who currently live at Plymouth Place. Last summer, two residents, celebrated their 101st and 102nd birthdays. When seniors move to Plymouth Place, they tend to remain for as long as possible.

Plymouth Place is offering a open house tour for NOG residents on Saturday May 14th from 9:30 - 10:30 am. Ruth Hardin, Executive Director of Plymouth Place will lead the tour. All NOG residents are invited to attend.

MEET THE NEIGHBORS:

The studio has experience restoring stained glass damaged by fire or storm. If you're looking for help with a new project or repairing stained glass (anything from lampshades to beveled glass to a leaded glass window), please contact Alan or Marty at the Stained Glass Store by calling 279-4855.
